

CustomPro[®]

INTRODUCTION

CustomPro[®] is Giant Coatings' sales category that best describes our commitment to solving some of your toughest coating requirements. Solutions that require the application of products such as epoxies, enamels or one of the many other types of coatings available by spray application. CustomPro[®] is an adaptive process depending on your required needs of the finished product's usage. This could include everything from chemical resistance to high heat protection on a wide variety of base materials.

Giant Coatings strives for perfection in meeting your needs and CustomPro[®] is as much about the consultation process to clarify your needs as it is about the coatings themselves.

BENEFITS

CustomPro[®] is about getting the most out of your components by controlling costs while maximizing performance and looks.

CustomPro[®] can be applied on various materials.
